 Chairman, Indonesian
 Rattan Foundation

Dear Buyers,

As an organization that encourages the use of rattan products, the Indonesian Rattan Foundation or Yayasan Rotan Indonesia endorses the Indonesia Sourcing Report: Rattan Furniture. We also support the Kearny Alliance in its advocacy to create jobs, increase worker incomes and bring people from around the world together through international trade.

Indonesia supplies 85 percent of global rattan demand, making the country a primary source of rattan furniture and handicrafts that are artistic and environment-friendly. The material comes from forests maintained by about 2.3 million rattan collectors' farmers. Nearly 10 million craftsmen and entrepreneurs then process these raw materials. Exporting cane and rattan products is the primary means of sustaining the industry. The livelihood of farmers and artisans depends on the volume of rattan and its derivative products traded around the world.

Let us use environment-friendly rattan products to enhance our homes, restaurants, cafes and hotels. Not only will we create more jobs for farmers and craftsmen, we will also prevent the accumulation of more nonbiodegradable materials in the environment.
